Concago despatch brings the intelligible to Mr Blaine indicating his wish to be generated that Congressman Morrison will not come reconciled this related that Mr contest the electron in his district but Edmunds in his interview with his friend context the election in his district but that the fraunds of Morrison say that the fraunds of Morrison say that the fraunds of Morrison say that the morrison to be made. As Mr. Carhale will have a contest of personal interest to look after it is hardly probable that he is anxious to get more of the same tusiness on his hands. Furthermore there is nothing to contest Mr. Morrison was fairly beaten in a square open fight, and a Democratic House even if it could would not care to assume the responsibility of trying to overcome the very decisive majority appears in the Boston Pew reads. In the General construction put upon which Mr. Baker will take his sent in Congress.

The Boston Pew reads Mr. McNeill s hecture for lending himself to the schemes of the Republican City Committee. As ing as the laboring men were satisfied to follow the lend of the Democratis without asking any questions they were regarded as very good fellows at about election time but now that they propose to act in the person of the interest without all the morrison and the promise of the republican very good fellows at about election time but now that they propose to act in the person of the interest of the person of all third party movements that promised to draw Republican votes, but now they are get-party movements that promised to draw Republican votes, but now they are getting a dose of their own medicine and it makes them squirm awfully The Posts siurring reference to Mr McNeill is a = direct slap in the face to the laboring men Bengor Council, o. 5, 1. & S, M. they will doubless taxe the coming sleption as an excellent time o resent the in

The Boston Herald informs the Democrats that if they desire to capture the crais that if they desire to capture the HATS selling for 10 and 75 cents at renote they must turn their attention to the HATS selling for 10 and 75 cents at T HI COOMS S the Western States and shape their policy strickly on a revenue reform, or free trade busis instead of adopting a neutral policy We most superfely hope that the Demo-trats will accept the adv se of our Mugwarsh confemborary and ct me out squarely in favor of their pet doctrine It would ensure their overwholming defeat, but they would at least have the credit of conducing's campaign in which they had the courage of their convictions. In the last campaign the party platform meant noth ing as Mr Morrison interpreted it one way and Mr Randali the other on the triff question An honest contest on the issue of protection vs. free trade, or revenue reform, as the Mugwumps prefer to call it. is just what the Republicans desire

The Springfield Republicar attributes to Hon Henry Cabot Lodge the article which recently appeared in the Daily Advertiseraticising Mr Blaine Mr Lodge does not claim to be the editor of the Advertiser. He is if we may be allowed the expression, the directing Director. He did no see the article before it appeared in the Advertiser, and it did not meet with his approval. This is simple justice to Mr Lodge and entirely uncolleited by him Boston Journal

If Mr Lodge is to continue to be regard. C ed as the general manager, or, as the Journal puts it the "directing Director," of a daily Boston paper, it would seem to be important to his comfort that he should have some influence in regard to what are published as the opinions of his paper. The theory that the d rector of a newspaper may throw all responsibility for its atterances and line of policy upon the persons hired by him to write for it is a novel one, and the Advertiser has exhibited frequent illustrations of its anomaly. To idinary folks it seems very funny to think of the manager of a newspaper who is not permitted by his own employes to III. co I. . have any voice in its management. Perhaps it is another new Boston no ion.

The vote of Dakota at the late election will reach about 100,000, and the majority of the Republicans will be 20 000. The poll is 15,000 larger than ever before.

Decidedly the silliest effort of the Mugwumpian silly season has been the attemp o make a terribie ado because Mr. Blaine failed to rush in o the arms of Mr. Edmunds whose insulting references to Mr Blaine had just been published in all the phase of the matter has been the prompt demonstration of the common sense of the Republican State Committee believes that public, who have refused to get excited when all the contested sq. cases have over the sensational nonegoes, but have been decided the Republicans will have a quietly decided that Mr. Blaine's was the only dignified action in the whole performance. The labored effort to make it appear that Mr Blaine had been guilty of some shocking misconduct "a. a funeral" has only served to emphasize the fact that he did nothing whatever, except to preserve decorum and blaself respect by remaining silent when it was very appro-The assumption that it would have been more befitting the solemntles of a funeral the hollow mockery of friendly greetings In the coming Mayoralty election in with a man whom he had conspicuous rea Roston the late Democratic State ticket son to believe his implacable foe is too absurd to find support among sincere peodrew being in favor of the re-election of ple. Other are blocked and striped, and all these goods come in most of the, fashionable shades of color. Among lining goods are those of wool satteen with a smooth satin facing. These keep their color well and ontwear all other linings of silk, satin, or merveilleaux. Exquisite toilets for the daucing season are imported, made of white canton crape delicately figured with silk-embroidered flowers or with tiny sprays in natural colors stamped upon their airy surfaces. A bridesmaid's dress, privately shown by ad importer, his a demi-train of milk-white crape with a plented rese ruching at the foot, this showing at the extreme edge a row of fluffy undulating frills. inconsistent. The small, soug toque, with its simple folds and smooth, glossy feather its simple folds and smooth, glossy feather trimmings, is most uppropriate, but the style is too severe to suit all people, and would be unsuitable for any woman far past middle age. The long-popular French bonnert, with its medium-size crown and coronet front or brim but slightly protruding, is always lady-like, always elegant looking, and as becoming as any bonnet of whatever shape of fancy, can ever be. A number of the tailor-made costumes Not a Liquid, Souf e of the latest description have the full jaboted back drapery at the left side, handsomely fined with velvet or plush of a shude contrasting or harmonizing with one of the shades of the figured woollen fabric forming the costume. A very stylish street gown shows an underskirt of dark. Venetian green and golden-brown cheek, crossed with lines of Neapolitan red. The front of the skirt is kilted, after red. The front of the skirt is kilted, after first being faced up with dark red we vet to the depth of four inches. An odd draperty, mingling velvet and checked material, form a nu que tunic above the kilting, and in the back, at the left side, the jaboted draperty is lined, seemingly throughout, with the velvet. The Marquise jacke, is, cut several lucius, longer than has been usual, and is made of the tweed, with a plain back, not completed by the incritable position. Beneath this is a waiset oat of dark red weivet, decorated with flat silk gimp applique ornaments of dark green and golden brown interwoven. The vest is fastened with gold and bronze buttons. Gray street suits are this season either trimmed with gray and white marabout natural beaver, or golden-brown feather, trimming, with vest and panels of goldentriuming, with vest and panels of golden-brown plush to match. Dove and Quaker gray faille française combined with plush or velvet, forms one of the very recher the insported costumes of the season for cin-ner and visiting weak, and corded slik and ludia tulle age used, the one for the prin-cess slip agi the other as draping, in the construction of exquisite evening tollets garnitured with trails of pink and cardinal roses.

Velvet bonnets ar brought out in all the handsome shades noted in felt models, nd are either plait, or embreidered in beads of various polors, or wrought in delicate devices in gold and silver threads. Elegant evening chonnets by white velvet have superb broche designs wrought upon their britos in scarjet, green, and gold, these exquisitely fine and deliciously shaded. Other bonnets are made of pale-timed velvets with a band of bead-embroidered net inserted, this giving the effect of a striged velvet bonnet. One for example—a Pairs model—shows a nun's-cap shape made of pink velvet striped with bands of prices pink silk net, the mesh nearly etvered with a delicate hand-wrought embroidery of finest pink part heads. The tonnet is lined wift the net alone, and triumed with softest dropping tips of pink and white markbout. Rob Roy caps for opera wear are made of cream white, pale violet, ciel blue, and gink velvet, the hat encircled by long narrow white ostribh plumes, held by Irishidiamond bluckles. ular last season, has blossomed out into the veritable Garibaidi shirt of vivid sexilet, thus repeating a fashion of other days. Sanctioned by best authority, the red Garibaidi is likely to become as generally worn during the winter as it was in the years when the patriot who gave to the clouse his name was struggling for the independence of Italy. One new feature is added to the waist. Instead of being gathered full into the neck-band, the folges is disposed in very narrow pleats about five-inches in length. Below these pleats the material falls loose and droops considerably over the waist line. There are also no wristbands at the sleeres, which are full at the shoulder, narrow pleats, like those at the neck, making a sort of cuff at the wrist. None but slend er women should venture to adopt this easy style of corsage; there are, however, triugiting bodices, cut with blouse outlines, but with not n blt of extra fabric anywhere upon the waist. Bands of flat passementerie or applique are laid from the shoulder to the waist, giving the effect of trimmed box-pleats. These can be worn by women of medium stout proportions. Very stout women, however, should avoid a wuist of any description that terminates at the belt.

Ancient Mussel Beds in Cam-

The Camden Herald says: For several weeks a crew of men have been at work digging a channel at the outlet of Megunticook lake, near the site of the old Molineux mills. At several points where the channel was dug, the sucient flats were reached, filled with mussel, scallop and Sherhert or Ice Cream, C rocolate, conch shells, and rocks covered with umbrells-shaped barnscles.: The mud reached and removed, had the order and appearance of being shore flats, three feet below the surface of land and usually covered by the surrace or iann and usually covered by twenty to twenty-five feet of water, in by-gone ages, perhaps thousands of, years ago, these flats were washed, no doubt, by the obb and, flow of ocean tides. When our mountains, like pleganticook and Hosmer, were thrown up by some volcanion convulsion, the depressions were also
